The city has a three-block rate structure. As the amount of water use increases and moves into the next block, the cost per thousand gallons increases. A water user's Average Winter Consumption (AWC) from December to March is generally used to determine in which block a customer is billed. The AWC for a single-family residence is capped at a maximum of 8,000 gallons a month to determine the appropriate billing block.

Bulk Water & Metered Hydrant Rate = $7.00 per 1,000 gallons
